DEBBIE PAGE Ceramics

Fascinated by all things lunar, inspired by the Korean Mon Jar, compelled to coil clay and to explore the possibilities with glaze and smoke.

I found the love of my pottery life on seeing the image of Lucie Rie sitting next to this amazing white vessel about 20 years ago and I've been making moon jars ever since.

Initially I sought to convey the lunar surface on the surface of the moon jars; later adding colour for the Earth and other elements of nature. This Spring I have been working on a 'Cherry Blossom' series inspired by a cherry tree in my garden.
